

Handwriting practice copy out neatly please.

Maasai Jewellery

The Maasai are a tribe who have lived in areas of Tanzania and Kenya for hundreds of years. They are nomadic cattle herders, which means they move with their herds of cows from place to place.

Their jewellery is made of colourful beads arranged into patterns. The colours they like to combine in these patterns are blue, green, red, yellow, orange, black and white.

Maasai Jewellery

The Maasai are a tribe who have lived in areas of Tanzania and Kenya for hundreds of years. They are nomadic cattle herders, which means they move with their herds of cows from place to place.

Their jewellery is made of colourful beads arranged into patterns. The colours they like to combine in these patterns are blue, green, red, yellow, orange, black and white.