

Tips for Writing

Explanation

Explanation

A faint, stylized illustration of a person with short brown hair, wearing a red and white striped shirt, is visible in the background. The person is shown from the side, looking down and writing in a notebook with a pen. The notebook is open, showing several lines of cursive handwriting. The entire scene is set against a light green background with a white border.

Purpose

Tells us how something works or gives us information about something.

Structure

A general statement is used to introduce the topic of explanation.

There are lots of things we can do to stay healthy and to keep illnesses away.

A series of logical steps explaining how or why something occurs.

The best drinks for staying healthy are water and milk. Fruit juices can be good for us but they can have a lot of sugar in them. Fizzy drinks are not good for us at all.

Steps continue until the final state is produced or the explanation is complete.

Features

Explanations are written in the present tense.

Many birds fly south

Conjunctions that signal time are used in explanations.

then

next

several months later

Explanations are written using causal connectives.

because

so

this causes

Features

- Title – explains what the text is for
- Opening Statement – about the subject
- Clear, simple points about why or how something occurs
- Technical words – where appropriate
- Conjunctions – e.g. because, resulting in
- Present tense
- Summary Paragraph

Title and Introduction

Use a clear title that indicates what you are writing about.

Decide whether to use diagrams, charts, illustrations or flow charts to help explain.

Use the first paragraph to introduce the subject to the reader.

Try to make the title intrigue the reader.
Why do sloths hang about?

Using how or why in a title helps.

Organise the writing and illustrations to explain:

- What you need.
- How it works.
- Why it works.
- When and where it works.
- What it is used for.
- Add in extra, interesting information.

An illustration of a child with brown hair, wearing a red and white striped shirt, sitting at a desk and writing with a green pen on a piece of paper. In the background, a large, brown, swirling tornado is depicted against a light blue sky. The scene is set within a light green rectangular frame.

Interest the reader with an exclamation or question.

Beware – whirlwinds can kill!

Did you know...?

Interest the reader.

Strange as it may seem...,
Not many people know that...

