

There are 14 children on the bus. Another 7 children get on. How many children are there now on the bus?

Read these word problems with your helpful adult. Can you write the answers in a simple sentence?

I eat 7 apples at snack time and 8 apples at lunch time. How many apples have I eaten altogether?

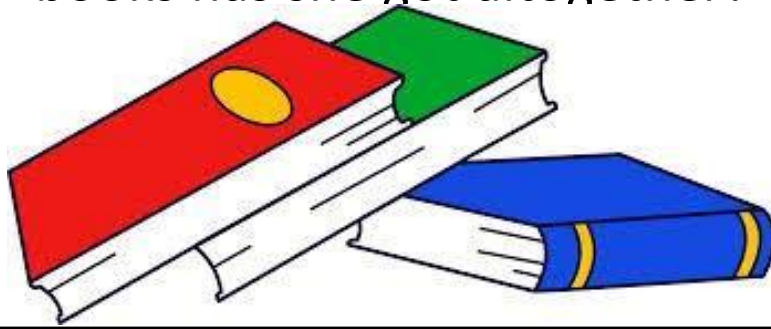

Tom has 15 cakes. He give 4 to Sarah and 3 to Bill. How many have they got altogether?

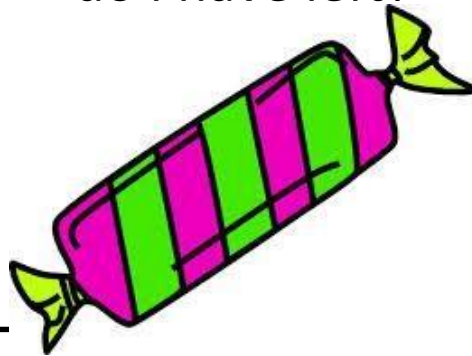

The monkey has 8 bunches of bananas. There are ten in each bunch. How many does he have?

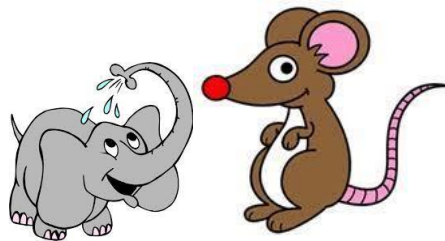

Claire has 3 books. Tom gives her 6 more. How many books has she got altogether?

I have 18 sweets. I give 4 away. Now how many sweets do I have left?

An elephant weighs 12 bricks. A mouse weighs 3 bricks. What is the difference between their weights?

Sarah has 5 pencils and she is given 7 more. How many does she have altogether?

